The News. It appears that Mr. Slocum, the individual appointed to go to Mexico and hunt up testimony against the Gardiner claim, is paid by the day till the trial comes off, and is to be allowed some com tingent extras in case of conviction. This may be wrong-the delay may be wrong-the detention of the accused is certainly an inconvenience to him; but outside of the atmosphere of Washington, the Impression prevails that there is something "rotten In Denmark," and that this delay is less for the purpose of making sure of one recipient than for the purpose of clearing some others, by staving off the trial entirely. Five hundred thousand dollars is a powerful sum of money, and goes a long way. But we ought to have the trial, before it is smothered up in the "noise and confusion" of the Presidential election. Where is Smith, late the attaché of Mr. Letcher? What is Mr. Letcher doing in this business, that he has not been lately heard of? This is also a mystery; but the greatest mystery is, who has got the money !

We are informed that the Compromise resolutions will certainly be offered in the Whig Congressional Cancus on Tuesday week. We hope so. Let the Southern whigs stick to it, and Seward is down; let them abandon it, and Seward and the agitators will rule the roast, and very soon demoralize and destroy the whig party, or carry their abolition principles rough-shod over the South.

Mr. Cushing's bill requiring the Canal Auditor to pay the drafts of the Commissioners, which passed the Assembly several days ago, was not taken up in the Senate on Saturday, notwithstanding all the efforts of its friends. The opponents of the measure out-manageuvred its advocates entirely, by keeping up an incessant talking-prolonging the session till midnight, and completely fatiguing their adversaries. Eventually the latter, who were probably both sleepy and hungry, and wished to get out of the chamber, silently gave consent to the taking up of Mr. Bennett's resolutions for the distribution of lands. This is a subject on which every body can talk-as has been fully evidenced recently in Congress-and it is not improbable that our wise Senators will now hold a long disension on the merits of all kinds of soils, including free seil, with which many of the rural mombers are quite familiar, and well qualified to give an opinion. These land resolutions, it is quite likely, will engross the attention of the Senate till the close of the session; so there is little prospect of the passage of Mr. Cushing's bill. No matter, the Court of Appeals will soon decide whether the anditor is right or wrong in withholding the supplies. Our correspondent intimates that an attempt will be made to prolong the session till Friday, in their services after Wednesday.

The details of the late news from the provinces of La Plata are given in full in this morning's paper. Although it is two weeks later than the date of the flight of Rosas, the allied army had not entered Buenos Ayres; but a new government had been organized. and arrangements were in progress to carry out the necessary reform in the affairs of the confederation. We have yet to see the result of the battle of Santos Lagaros. We have yet to see the efrientes, Santa Fe, Buenos Ayres, Missiones, and that part of Bolivia watered by the Paraguay. Time will settle or upset everything in that quarter.

SENATOR STOCKTON'S SPEECH, AND THE RE-PORTERS .-- The Newark Adecrises contradicts a statement made upon the faith and under the authority of Commodore Stockton, in a Philadelphia journal, viz: that the Trenton report of his famous speech was incorrect, or mutilated, or wrong in any essential particular. We are much more disposed to believe the assertion of a life-like reporter on such a subject, than the after thought of any of your distinguished orntors of the day. We have had much experience in such things, and have witnessed again and again the paltry equivocations made by orators against reporters, when they are too faithfully reported on all these festifications. It happens, sometimes, that reporters are the only sober persons present on such occasions, and the only persons capable of telling the public what has been acutally said. When orators undertake to report themselves, they know nothing of what they have said, or regard it; and we believe that these relative conditions of the intellects of reporters and orators will exist, in spite of all the Maine Liquor laws to the contrary. It is a very unhandsome thing, therefore, for the friends of Commodore Stockton, or even for the Commodore, to throw an imputation on the accuracy of the Newark reporter of his speech-for the published afterwards in Philadelphia.

The Great Whig Movements at Washington The whig caucus, held at Washington on Friday evening last, consisting of a majority of the whig members of both Houses of Congress, is beginning to create a more than usual attention among the politicians of all parties in this quarter. The whig isurnals at Washington, from which we might exneed some information on the subject, are very cos-Psecrets of the prison house." The following is all that the Republic newspaper gives us on the oc In pursuance of the call in the papers of yesterday, the whig members of Congress met last evening in the Senate chamber, at seven o'clock. The meeting was organized by calling Mr. Mangum to the chair, and by the selection of Mr. Chandler, of Pennsylvania, and Mr. Dockery, of North Carolina, as secretaries. The caneus was in session till about eleven o'clock; and after a somewhat animated and amicable conversation on several points of party and public interest, adjourned to meet again on next Tuesday week.

and very chary of letting out any of the

The National Intelligencer has even less, simply stating the hour of meeting and the hour of closing. but pretending to know nothing of what took place inside, on account of the door being shut on all the rest of the world. All this delicacy and affectation of the whig organs at Washington, or elsewhere. only intimate with great force the importance of this meeting, and of the discussions which took place on that interesting occasion. We have already given exclusively the substance of these discussions, and the obstacles which affected the caucus, and the causes which produced the adjournment for a week, without the meeting coming to any satisfac tory conclusion.

Now, what are these obstacles ! What were the obstacles to action in the whig caucus? What are the difficulties among the whig members? All this is plain and simple. The same difficulties that agitated the whig caucus in Washington, have been agitating the democratic party and the democratic caucus, in the same region, and elsewhere throughout the country. It is a distemper which equally affects both parties—democratic and whig—in either section, North or South, East or West. It is a difficulty which had its origin in the North, in the antislavery fanaticism which sprung up about twenty years ago, and which has been growing and strengthening ever since, in consequence of the venality, corruption, vengeance, discontent, or ambition of the leading politicians in the North, and particularly of such men as Wm. H. Seward and Martin Van Buren. The disease which affected the whig cancus on last Friday evening, is the disease which has been affecting all parties at the North for the last twenty years—an anti-slavery disease—as abolition disorder-an attempt on the part of certain fanaties in the North to violate the constitution, and the rights of the South, while they remain within the verge of the constitution, and within the Union, at the same time. The Washington Republic, the organ of the administration, simply states that the discussion in the whig caucus "amicable and animated." This is a false description of the true facts-it was an excited discussion, and anything but amicable. It was a discussion or conversation springing from principles opposite as the poles-principles which will rend the whig party and the democratic party, and the Union itself, asunder, if they are settled upon satisfactorily by the great politicians of the day, both North and South.

The practical questions which have thus far disturbed the harmony of both parties at Washington, in their internal regulations, are those items of laws which made up the "Compromise," passed by the last Congress, but more especially the 'Fugitive Slave law." Both the national parties at Washington, on several occasions during the present winter, endeavored to harmonize, on the spoils principles, secessionists and free soilers-Southern ultras and Northern ultras-on the same Presidential platform, merely for the sake of the spoils. Such a harmony can have no lasting existence, and will only lend to dangerous results at a future day. The whig caucus may stave off this question, and simply announce a day for the Whig National Convention to meet; for as certainly a that convention meets, the same question will spring up as the last resort, and perhaps may breed more disturbance, and more trouble, and more dissension. than it could do at the preliminary caucus which is called for next week. From appearances, too, it would seem that the Southern whigs are without stamina, r moral courage, or perseverance, or determination, to stand their ground for their constitutional rights in the face of a prospect of reaching power and plunder by evading this question. Time, however, will tell whether they have the courage to meet the crisis, or not. It is a most important crisis for the South. doubtful, however, whether the members will agree It is the first time that they have, on practical to legislate for nothing. They cannot draw pay for grounds, met the anti-slavery agitators, such as Seward, Van Buren, and their supporters, face to face, in caucus or convention; and if the Southern whigs or the Southern democrats flinch from the defence of their constitutional rights in such caucus or convention, merely for the sake of the chance of receiving a prize in the Presidential lottery, the Southern States will regret it as long as this Union continues-if it lasts much longer than the present generation.

The friends and supporters of the South who fect of the overthrow of Rosas on the commerce and reside in the North, are watching the conduct condition of Uruguay, Entre Rics, Paraguay, Cor- of both whigs and democrats in both caucuses and conventions at Washington, Baltimore, and elsewhere; and as they conduct themselves there -stand their ground or cave in-so, they may rely on it-will the future course of legislative ac Guatemala. > Kosseyn Compa-The Hungarian here, not having received any attention in Charleston or South Carolina, hurried through that city, and, acording to the telegraph, may be expected here in a few days. He may possibly stop at Washington, and explain to Mr. Clay the discourteous allusions which he made to that distinguished statesman in his Louisville and New Orleans speeches. Again, he may not stop there. In the meantime, what preparations are being made in this city to give him another reception-a second reception! Surely all those tremendous orators and prodigiously pub-He spirited individuals who went crazy here on his first visit, are not going to give him the cold shoulder when he comes a second time? Is it not time for the bloody revolutionary committee to meet again at the Astor House, and count over the amount of funds received for the purpose of creating a revolution in Europe—to brush up the forty or fifty thousand or their muskets for that exciting expedition ! Bernum, Greeley & Co., are members of that committee, and having just got through their liquor business, must turn their attention to Kossuth, and give him a proper and genteel reception previous to his going to Europe.

> THE MORAL REPORM MOVEMENT .- We are glad to see that the Mayor and police have roused themselves from their torpidity, and interfered with the exhibition of the Model Artistes, somewhere up Broadway. This should be only the beginning of their labors. There are various other exhibitions, of a similar description, in different parts of the city. There are besides, a number of other places, resorted to by highly respectable persons, in the city, clearly illegal and discreditable, which ought to be put down. Why are not the unlicensed grog shops shut up ! Why are not gambling houses, which are within hearing of the Court of Sessions itself, as stated by the Recorder, - why are not they treated as the Model Artistes? Why are not drinking and other houses, which are open at all hours of the night, in the several wards, shut up? One swallow is not a summer. The successful irruption upon a solitary and disreputable house, up Broadway, is not sufficient to purify this Sodom and Gomorrah.

We call, therefore, upon the public authorities, police and all, to go on with the holy crusade of moral first speech was decidedly more life-like, and had reform in this city, for the diminution of intempemore original genius, than the dull, stupid one rance, immorality, and vice. No harm can come of it ; but much good. Go shead !

THE ART UNION STILL IN TROUBLE .- Our law reporter has already given a brief account of the ar. gument on Saturday, commenced by the District Attorney against the Art Union, for the confiscation of all its property, on the ground of its illegality and unconstitutionality. The Judge, however, deelined deciding on the simple question before him, but preferred referring the matter to the whole Bench. This places the Art Union in a much worse position than it ever yet has been. If it should escape condemnation in the Supreme Court of this city, it then passes to the Court of Appeals, and will undoubtedly be declared illegal and unconstitutional, at all hazards and at every venture. It will be seen, also, that the District Attorney warned the Art Union not to attempt drawing, by having another lottery, although there was no special injunction in operation to prevent them. Without our assistance, therefore, or our suit, the Art Union is now in the last throes of its existence. It may be considered defunct, and this destiny has been brought upon it principally by the folly and swaggering and impertinence of some of its silly managers.

THE CLAY FESTIVAL TO-NIGHT .- Henry Clay is seventy-five years old to-day; and in honor of his anniversary the whigs of New York city, rain or shine, give a banquet this evening, at the Apollo Rooms. Among the speakers engaged for the oceasion are Governor Jones, of Tennessee, and Hon. Presley Ewing, of Kentucky, who are now in town. The New York whigs are among the most devoted admirers of Mr. Clay, who stands, like King Saul, a head and shoulders above the whole lot of old fogies and young fogies—the great champion of the Union. We are a little ourlous to see whether these New York Clay whigs, with all their gold medals and birthday banquets, intend to sustain him or abandon him, as in 1848. He has recommended Mr. Fillmore as his choice for the Pridency. Will they blarney the old patriot, and firm the cold shoulder to his last request ? Perhaps, and perhaps not, but -perhaps.

THE BALTIMORE DELEGATES .- It has generally been supposed that the majority of the New-York delegates to the Baltimore Democratic Convention are favorable to the nomination of Governor Marcy for President, the rest of them being for Cass. We do not believe that Marcy has half a dozen, in fact. A majority of them may not be for Cass, but we doubt if Marcy has anything like the number he is represented as having. It was merely a mode of opposing Cass that was adopted by those hostile to him. and nothing else.

NEW PRIMA DONNA .- We understand that a young prima donna, who was well known as a brilliant tragic actress a few years ago, is preparing to make her debut in Italian opera, in a few months, in this city. She has been studying for the last six years in this country and in Europe, and has astonished those who have heard her, with a voice of most extraordinary compass, power, flexibility and sweetness. She was beginning to be a great actress before she turned her attention to music and opera. And, with her tragic genius united to her wonderful vocal powers, it is supposed she will make one of the most extraordinary debuts that ever was made THEATRICAL STARS IN BOSTON .- By the Boston papers we observe that Madame Lola Montes, the Countess of Lansfeld, and Madame the Baroness de Marguerrittes, were both to appear as vocalists, in different places in Boston, on the same night-last Saturday. Lola Montes made her début in two or three Spanish ballads or songs, at a benefit for some charitable purpose. Madame de Marguerrittes took the principal part in "La Gazza Ladra." We shall be curious to see, by the Boston papers, how these debutantes succeed in their several roles.

SUNDAY, April 11-5 P. M.

At the close of the stock market yesterday, the tendency of prices was upward, with an active demand for in the speculative excitement; but, on the contrary, as prices advance, purchasers become more abundant. This is usually the case, and parties who hesitated about com ing in while the market was depressed, take hold with avidity at the height of the expansion. This enables those who entered the speculation early, to find customers at high prices, and realize profits. For a long time outsiders held back, and holders in the street were fearful that all the inflation would amount to nothing. Perseverance, aided by facilities furnished by the easy money market. finally turned the tide in favor of holders, and they have, within the past week, been relieved of a large amount of stocks. Work or a time, will have a favorable effect. It is for the large at of brokers to keep up the excitement. and to encourage outsiders as much as possible. The amount of stocks yet in the hands of street operators is much too large, and a much wider distribution must be made before the tables can be successfully turned. The reluctance with which outsiders have come forward, compelled the brokers to keep the inflation steadily in motion, for without creating an external demand, all their pre-viousefforts would have been in vsin. Portunately, fish have commenced coming into the net, and we have no doubt a pretty good haul will be made. As soon as the bulk of the fancies has been put upon outsiders, and the regular brokers are short instead of long, we shall see a different state of things in Wall street. As soon as the brokers have sold out, and many of them get short, at high prices, their game will be to depress the market, and compel outside holders to sell at the depreciation. To do this, they will commence calling in all loans made on fancy stocks, calling for wider margins on time purchasers, and by setting in operation that ma-chinery they know so well how to manage, which must ultimately bring about the desired result. The system by which inflations and contractions in the stock market are produced, is perfect, and works admirably, The state of the money market has not so much to do with these things as is generally imagined. An abundance of money, confidence, and low rates of interest, are very necessary to create an expansion, but have not so much influence in preventing a contraction. The steady and rapid advance which has for some time past been realized in nearly every fancy stock on the list, must scoper or later be arrested. Most of the purchasers in the market are buying to sell again. Most of them are looking for profits; but very few will actually regise any Where nearly all are buyers, those who have the good sense to sell, at all events secure semething. As but few fancise are taken out of the market by capitalists for investment it follows that the accumulation of large lots of steeks in week hands, at high prices, must ultimately break town those attempting to carry such a dead weight and when they give way, there is no medium lodgment; but down they go to the very lowest dopth. Then all are sellers, and none buyers. One extreme is pretty sure to

It will be seen, on reference to the transactions at the second board, yesterday, that the most active stock on the list was Harlem. There were sales at higher prices than have before been touched for years. We have quently remarked that this stock was unwarrantably depressed; that it was intrinsically worth much more than it was selling at, and that it was one of the best investments of the day at current rates. Since that, it has advanced considerably, and will, we have no doubt, steadily move up to its proper place in the rank of railroad stocks. The receipts of this company for the month of March. 1882, amounted to $64.254 41, against $42.615 16 for the same month last year, showing an increase for the month of $21,639 25—equal to fifty per cent. It must, however, be berne in mind that in March this year, the road was open through to Albany, while in March, last year, it was only open to Dover Plains. It has long been our belief that the stock of the Harlem Railrond Company was worth dollar for dollar more than the Eric, and time will, without doubt, confirm the correctness of our position. The Harlem is destined to do a large business; it is free from competition and its local traffic alone will sustain the Its affairs are too much amalgamated with, and made too subservient to, the New Haven Company; and until they are administered separately, the interests of stock holders in the Hariem road will not be properly protected New Jersey Zine is steadily improving. The stock is rapidly going out of the market, into the hands of capitalists, for permanent investment. The manu-facture of zine paint will soon be a small item in the operations of this company. Its inexhaustible mines of Franklinite are literally mines of wealth, which, when developed, will surprise the most sanguine. There are ndications of an extensive movement in Canton Company. It originated we believe in Baltimore, and has already extended to Boston. We have no doubt the same tables of figures, showing the enormous value of the real estate of this company at Canton, will be again put in circulation, and the probability is that new purchasers will be found at any expansion. This, like any other fancy so artificially inflated, will run its course and disappear. Long Island has been tolerably active during the past three or four days. It is in good hands. Nica regua only comes out in small lots, and prices are well maintained. The slight interruption in the transit operations, caused by the loss of the North America, on the Pacific coast, has doubtless, had a tendency to keep back purchasers for a time; but the line will soon be again perfeet, and tri-monthly steamers leave each end of the route regularly. Morris Canal has been filled with water, and navigation will soon be resumed. The new inclined sale of the stock.

The receipts of the Buffalo and State Line Railroad Company for the month of March, amounted to $22,300 48, of which $14,571 25 was from passengers; $6.041 10 from freight, and the balance from mail ser-

Business on the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal continues fa'r, reventy-four boats having arrived at Alexandria from Love during the first week of April. The cargoes of here heats have been chiefly flour, wheat, and coal. They differ from the beats of a very few years since, in being about double their capacity; whereas six or seven hundred barrels of flour were formerly considered a large cargo, now they run up from a thousand to fourteen hun-dred.

The track of the Baltimere and Ohio Railroad, west of Cumberland, has been laid as far as the 92d section. The rails are now carried on a temporary track over the Great Tunnel hill. It is expected that the tunnel will be ready for the passage of the cars in a few weeks, and then the road will be opened to Three Forks. The work is advancing with great vigor.
